The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

Feast of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ (Corpus Christi)

*(Take this. It is my body. Take This. It is my Blood.
As often as you do this, it is in memory of ME.)*

Today we celebrate the Feast of Corpus Christi which has other names, such as, the Holy Eucharist, the Bread of Angels, the Food of our Soul, the Bread of Eternal Life, and when taken to a dying person, it is called the Viaticum.

It was on the day of the Last Supper that Jesus, sitting with his twelve Apostles, took bread, said the blessing, and gave it to his disciples and said, “This is my body”. Then he took the wine, and said, “This is my blood. As often as you eat and drink this in my name, you do it in memory of Me”. This is exactly what we do at Mass. At consecration of the bread, which no longer remains bread, it becomes the Body of Christ and the wine becomes the Blood of Christ. We then receive it as Holy Communion or by the names enumerated above. So this is Christ giving Himself to the entire Catholic world as our spiritual food in perpetuity or as he said, ‘until He comes again.’

What effects do we derive when we receive Communion? The Catechism of the Catholic Church tells us, it gives us four effects:

- It brings us closer to our Lord Jesus Christ.
- It fills us with sanctifying grace.
- It diminishes inclination to sin.
- It is a pledge to eternal glory.

May those points of its effects sink into our hearts. Amen.

Fr. Chris

The More You Know: An Informed Catholic is a Well-formed Catholic

To gain a deeper understanding of the topic, follow the ACTS (Adoration, Contrition, Thanksgiving, Supplication) process and consider deeper reading and thinking about each topic using the appropriate, associated references. This is one small effort for Catholic Evangelization and Education. Always remind yourself of the Holy Trinity and of Christ’s Redemption of our souls. As a reminder and to stay informed, see the Parables of Jesus below.

The Good Shepherd, 10:1-18

Peter’s Pence Collection next Sunday

The Peter’s Pence Collection is scheduled for next Sunday, June 26. This special collection supports human initiatives and social promotion projects. Please contribute to this collection.

Church Etiquette, A Few Reminders

1. Arrive on time (If late, enter quietly and not during the reading of the Gospel or Eucharist.)
2. Walking and talking during any kind of prayer does not show reverence to our Lord.
3. Please use the side aisles during mass (including when you take up your offertory).
4. Now is not the time for phones, cameras or other distracting devices. Turn phones off or switch to “silent.”
5. Eating and drinking in church is disrespectful and can be distracting to others.
6. You may notice a few members leaving right after receiving communion. Please don’t leave early. There is still a closing prayer and may be a few important announcements. And you may miss the great closing hymn!
